Share futures (single-stock, ETF, and trust units) and sector index futures

Fee formula:	$\text{Multiplier} \times (\text{Maturity date} - \text{trade date}) / 365$ $\times \text{trade price} \times \text{trading unit}$
Multiplier for share futures		0.00032
Multiplier for sector index futures		0.00016
Maturity date:	Maturity date of the contract
Trade date:	Date on which the trade is executed

Trade price:	Price at which the contract is traded
Trading unit:	Number of shares underlying one contract

For share-futures transactions under 100 contracts, the fee is $0.16.

For share-futures trades of 100 contracts and above and for sector index futures, the transaction fee (per contract, per side) calculated using the formula above is rounded to two decimals. The difference between the maturity date and the trade date is the number of calendar days between them not including the maturity date itself.

Example computation of the fee

For a hypothetical share-futures trade of XYZ for 10,000 contracts, supposing the price is $50, the trade date is 1 June 2024, and the maturity date is 16 June 2024, the transaction fee per contract would be:

$$(0.00032 \times (\text{Jun16} - \text{Jun01}) / 365 \times \text{Trade price} \times \text{Trading unit}) =$$

$$(0.00032 \times 15 \text{ days} / 365 \times ($50 \text{ per share} \times 100 \text{ shares})) = 0.06575$$

The fee, rounded to two decimals, is $0.07.

The total amount owing would be $0.07 x 10,000 contracts = $700.
